

Awatapu School Visit 2018

The Embassy of Japan was invited for a visit to Palmerston North's Awatapu College on 22 March. In the school library, we talked to students of years 9 through to 13 about Japan's culture and language, and also played some popular Japanese games like Karuta and Janken! The students are currently taking Japanese classes so they already knew a lot about Japan and were quick to learn new vocabulary. It was great to meet the students and teachers, and hear about what everyone likes about Japanese culture!

Visits such as these are great fun! You are always welcome to organise a school visit to the Embassy, and depending on your school's location, we can also visit you. We have a variety of topics and traditional toys that we can introduce, and can accommodate most requests. If you and your students are interested in learning more about Japan while having fun and playing games, get in touch!
